Summary: Just a bit about one of my HTTYD OC'S, Lessa, where she came from, and just a little bit about her. Nothing major. I'm bad at summaries, so... shrugs

Lessa's origin story

Author's note: Alright, here's my second origin story for an OC! I invented Kali before Lessa, but I have decided to write about Lessa first. I always write about a character before I put them in, so I chose to. **

Anyways, Lessa's parents, birth, and origin are a mystery. She probably came from some viking tribe that was raided by dragons. She already knew a lot about dragons, and managed to find and tame the biggest of them all- well at the time. The Red (or green, pick your colors) death, the dragon that Hiccup and Toothless killed, that she named Citysmasher. It took Lessa an entire year, but she managed to gain the gigantic dragon's trust, and became its rider. From then on, she helped control the other dragons. She lived without any human contact for three years, until she first met Hiccup. Though they didn't actually _talk_, Hiccup being too busy trying to kill her dragon, she still saw him. After her dragon died, with Lessa barely surviving the fire, she's been searching for a new dragon- and a way to get revenge on Hiccup- ever since.
